LEADERS SIMPLY MARK TIME

Week's Playing Fails to Alter Lead of Sox or Giants.

New York, June 24. — Despite excellent baseball weather during the past week, in which 57 major league games were played to one solitary postponement, the New York Nationals and Chicago Americans were unable to do better than mark time at the head of the column in their respective leagues with three victories and three defeats apiece. In the National League, Philadelphia succeeded in coming up to within a half game of the league leaders and in the American, Boston took advantage of the stunting of the White Sox and lessened the gap between them to one and a half games. Shore, of the Boston Americans, twirled a perfect game yesterday, allowing neither hit nor run and preventing any of the Washington players reaching first base.

In the National league, New York took three out of five games from Boston, in which Peritt and Tesreau scored shutouts. Schupp pitching against Boston Tuesday scored his eighth straight victory.

In the American league Chicago started the week badly, losing twice to Boston Monday. Rowland's men then took three out of four from Cleveland, Bagby holding the White Sox to three hits in their 1 to 0 defeat. After their double victory over Chicago Monday, Boston broke even in a hard fought four-game series with New York. Boston tallied its second double header victory of the week yesterday. New York was unable to continue its excellent work of the previous week. Groom of the Browns blanked the Yankees Monday. After dividing four games with the world's champions, Donovan's men took two games yesterday from the Athletics, Caldwell getting credit for both contests.

Detroit obtained a berth in the first division, by winning four of six games played, while Cleveland was losing four out of five.

Individual batting honors for the week went to Roush, center fielder of the Cincinnati Nationals, who made 16 hits in 31 times at bat.

Three Umpires Are Used in Double Header With Reds.

St. Louis, Mo., June 24. — Three umpires were used in today's double header between Cincinnati and St. Louis in an effort to quiet a crowd which awaited Umpire Byron outside the field on Thursday. Instead of removing Byron, President Tener sent Emble here to assist in handling the games. Quigley was behind the plate while Byron and Emble officiated on the bases.

A rally in the seventh won the first game for St. Louis, 4 to 2. Cincinnati walked away with the second game, 15 to 4.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

The New York Markets.

New York, June 24. — Highest money rates thus far this year and record breaking gold imports were the salient features of an otherwise unimportant week in the stock market. Call loans remained around six per cent and that rate was exceeded when industrial securities formed the great bulk of collateral.

In well informed circles, no marked readjustment of the conditions is expected pending payment of the first big installment on the Liberty loan, which calls for an outlay of $360,000,000. Almost coincident with this transfer are the July interest and dividend disbursements, which will surpass all previous demands.

The treasury department has informed bankers that steps soon will be taken to relieve the pressure on the money market resulting from the requirements of the $2,000,000,000 loan. It is expected fully half of the money now virtually idle will be made available immediately after the mid-year.

DELHI DAY BY DAY.

Banner, 14-Year-Old Boy, Found Dead At Hamden.

Delhi, June 24. — Corner C. R. Woods was called to Hamden this morning, to investigate as to the cause of the death of the 14-year-old son of John Hunter of Terry Grove, town of Hamden.

The young man was found dead in a small brook Friday evening. He had been subject to epileptic fits, and while fishing had been seized with one of these attacks. He had apparently been in the water about five hours. The face and chest was the only part of the body submerged. The coroner issued a death certificate in accordance with the foregoing facts.

New Village Ordinance.

The board of trustees of the village have passed an ordinance, that a tax shall be levied upon all persons and corporations conducting a transient retail business in the village of Delhi to be assessed upon the gross amount of sales made by the transient retailer and shall be at the same rate as other property in the village is taxed for the current year.

Has Bungalow on New York Skyscraper Roof

SKYSCRAPER BUNGALOW.

The distinction of being the only one in his profession to own a bungalow in the greatest city of the universe, where space is sold by the square foot at so many thousand dollars a square, belongs to Earl Carroll, America's foremost composer of musical comedy.

On the top of the Godfrey building, overlooking Broadway, he has built, at an outlay of $40,000, one of the finest roof-top residences in New York.

The bungalow covers the entire roof of the building. The house itself is a six-room affair, with an immense living-room, done in the Chinese period, an ideal study overlooking Broadway, a dream of a kitchen, a dining-room and two bedrooms.

A handball court, an aviary, a bubbling fountain and rambling vines are the attractive features of the outside of the "Starlit Bungalow," as Carroll calls it.

The photograph shows Mr. and Mrs. Carroll lending a helping hand to the masons, who are putting in one of the number of wall fountains which will be one of the features of the roof. In the basins of the fountains goldfish will find everything that a goldfish could wish for.

Jay Kilpatrick had a fine young Holstein cow, which was out in the pasture, killed by lightning.

Building a Barn.

Ernest Shaver of West Meredith has the frame up for a large basement barn and expects to have the building ready for storing his hay crop.

Strickland. — The town is putting in a stone road from the corner in this village to the cemetery, which was greatly needed, it being a very bad, muddy road and will be greatly appreciated by the public after it is completed. — Mrs. E. S. Bisbee is quite ill, suffering with indigestion.

MRS. THERESA MURDOCK.

Expires at Home in Sidney Center Tuesday After Long Illness.

Sidney Center, June 24. — Mrs. Theresa Murdock died at her home on Depot street Tuesday, after a long period of ill health, during most of which she has been confined to her bed. She was 75 years of age and is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Charles M. Smith and Miss Lillian Murdock of this village; also one sister, Mrs. Fannie Haslin of Franklin, and one brother, George Booth of Sidney. The funeral was held from her late home Thursday, Rev. V. G. Shaffer officiating. Burial was made in Highland cemetery.

Red Cross Mass Meeting.

An enthusiastic mass meeting in the interests of the Red Cross was held in the Methodist Episcopal church last Sunday evening. Music was furnished by a quartet from Sidney, and the speakers were Lieut. Thomas and Lieut. O'Connor of Company B, 1st regiment, B. C. Podney and Mrs. H. W. Silver. At the close of the meeting the Sidney Center branch of the Red Cross chapter was organized with 52 members, and the following officers: Chairman, H. W. Dewey; vice chairman, Miss Louise Eressee; secretary, Mrs. William Comstock; treasurer, W. H. Benedict; organizer, Miss Edith Jenkins.

Matters of Moment.

Sergeant Heidman of Company C has been transferred to Walton. Serg. Dibble has been sent from Walton to succeed him at this camp. — Frank Kiernan of New York was in town last Thursday in the interests of the State Charities Aid association. — The town directors of education, who were elected at a meeting held recently, are as follows: W. H. Benedict, three years; J. W. Young and Eugene DeForest, two years; F. H. Stilson and Hance Butler, one year.

Hurrah! How's This

Cincinnati authority says corns dry up and lift out with fingers.

Hospital records show that every time you cut a corn you invite lockjaw or blood poison, which is needless, says a Cincinnati authority, who tells you that a quarter ounce of a drug called freezeone can be obtained at little cost from the drug store but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus. You simply apply a few drops of freezeone on a tender, aching corn and soreness is instantly relieved. Shortly the entire corn can be lifted out, root and all, without pain. This drug is sticky but dries at once and is claimed to just shrivel up any corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. If your wife wears high heels she will be glad to know of this.

The Golden Warriors

Mark where our legions be! Kaiser, our power behold! Two billion warriors have we. Some green clad, some in gold.

Nay, more! O king whose steers turned faith into a creed, These are two billion altar fires—Two billion eyes of God!

Yes, king whose madness stripped The sweet, clean flesh of youth, Here are two billion arrows tipped With the hot barb of truth!

Yet every coin a sword—Shower them steel swords be—Forged in the white flame of the Lord For his child, Liberty.

O trinity, your aid! The earlier three well knew: The sword, the arrow and the flame, Freedom, are one in you!

All far afar shall fleet When, golden in the air, One hundred million eagles meet The sable buzzard pair.

Defeated, deviled, dazed, Hear you across the surge Two billion golden voices raised, O Kaiser, in your dirge?

Goliath, babes among, The golden stones are sped, By all the nation's Davids rung To strike you, giant, dead! —John O'Keefe in New York World.

HISTORY OF ROADMAKING.

Alexander Hamilton First Urged the Use of National Funds.

Speaking of the federal appropriation for roads just passed by congress, a bulletin of the American Highway association says:

The use of national funds for road improvements was urged early in the history of this country by Alexander Hamilton. A little later Albert Gallatin succeeded in securing the passage by congress of an act setting aside one-twentieth of the proceeds of the sale of public land in Ohio for building a highway from tidewater to the Ohio river. In 1806 President Jefferson appointed three commissioners to locate this route, which ran through Maryland, Pennsylvania and Virginia. The first contract for construction was placed in 1810, and in 1818 part of the road was opened to travel. It was called the National road and was built with national funds exclusively, so that the bill just passed by congress to furnish money for road building proposes nothing new. The federal government did not have the same views then that it has now of the importance of maintaining highways.

The National road was the main thoroughfare for the heavy travel between the seaboard and the Ohio valley, and lack of maintenance resulted in the road becoming very poor. In 1851 Congress passed an act to turn over to her care the portion of the road within her boundaries, and Maryland and Virginia also made a similar request somewhat later. Unfortunately state control did not result in any marked improvement. The countries which had charge of the portions within their boundaries did not pay much attention to highway improvements, and it was not until the comparatively recent organization of state highway departments that the old National road was given any real care. In the last ten years, however, reconstruction has been going on steadily. In about two years the entire length in Pennsylvania will be in good condition, and the portion in Maryland is also very nearly reconstructed. Farther west the old highway is not in such good condition, although sections of it have been rebuilt there. So this early venture in national road building, successful until the railroad took its place, is again in a prominent place among the highways of the country.

Living on Calories. The cheapest eating in the world is rice and peanuts, measured by the calories, which constitute the only real test. There is no attention paid to the value of food in practical living. Our sole guide is what hits our appetite. We want what "we'd rather," as the poor woman told Jane Addams. There is twice as much living in some kinds of foods as in others, and yet we pass up our plate perfectly unconcerned whether it comes back with 500 or 1,000 calories. That is one reason we are poor.—Columbus (O.) Journal.

NEW YORK WOMEN REGISTER. Suffragists Use Military Census as Argument For Their Cause. Women played a large part in the military census taken by volunteer workers in the state of New York. Every one, male or female, between the ages of eighteen and fifty was required to register and give the state all information which will be of military value. It was estimated that at least 3,000,000 persons would register.

The women were asked what training they had had in various fields, and they also acted as volunteer registrars. Suffragists are using this census as a good argument for their cause. The New York State Woman Suffrage party, of which Mrs. Norman deR. Whitehouse is chairman, has propounded the following queries:

Did your wife neglect your home or babies when she went to register in the recent military census?

Did she meet with any but courteous and respectful treatment from the men she saw there?

Did your family allow dissension and discord to take the place of quiet discussion when she was deciding what answers to make to the questions?

Did the government allow you to register for your wife and thus represent her in this important duty?

Did your wife feel less feminine, less womanly or less motherly for having registered?

The Japanese Juggler. A man who has traveled in Japan says of the feats of a native juggler: "He took an ordinary boy's top and spun it in the air, then threw the end of the string back toward it with such accuracy that it was caught up and would itself all ready for the second cast. By the time it had done this it had reached his hand and was ready for another spin." The paper butterflies he made by help of a fan to alight wherever he wished. The spectator requested that one might be made to settle on each ear of the juggler. "Gentle undulations of the fan waved them slowly to the required point and there left them comfortably settled."

In Norway books are said to be most favored as gifts.

The men who are looking for trouble needs no signposts.

BOTH MOTHER AND DAUGHTER

Relieved From Pain and Suffering by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Brooklyn, N.Y.—"For three or four years I suffered a great deal of pain periodically, so I would have to lie down. My back would ache and I would feel very weak and miserable. I remembered how my mother had found relief from pain by using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I decided to try it, and thanks to the Compound it helped me just as it did my mother, and I am free from pain, backache and that general weakness that was so hard to bear. I am able to do my work during such times and am recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to my friends who suffer as I did."—Miss MARY TIERMANN, 1622 Jefferson Ave., Brooklyn, N.Y.

To know whether Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, just try it. For advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

DOUBLE DUTY

A Dairy Ration Has Two Main Uses—Life and Product.

(National Cows Improvement Service.) A ration is divided into two parts: 1. The part needed to maintain or keep the animal alive.

2. The part needed to make stored up material like wool, fat, meat or milk.

Milk is roughly in solids, one-third each casein (protein), fat and sugar. The casein in milk can only be furnished by the protein in the food. The fat and sugar may be derived from either protein, fat or carbohydrates.

If a cow has the ability to give 50 pounds of milk containing two pounds of casein, and only gets enough protein to make one pound of casein, then she will only give 25 pounds of milk.

A balanced ration is one that has just the exact amount of protein, fat and carbohydrates that the cow needs. Just what this is we cannot say exactly, because the amounts vary from week to week and no two cows are alike, nor are feeds alike.

A practical ration is one that has sufficient protein and enough total food to make the greatest amount of milk without the cow losing weight.

A commercially successful ration is the one that makes the most milk or profit, keeps the cow healthy and enables the use of the most roughage.

All the hay and ensilage a cow can eat will keep her alive and make about 15 pounds of milk. Any more milk has to come from grain or grain feed.

The farm can usually raise carbohydrates cheap in the form of hay and ensilage, and, outside of clover, peas, etc., protein can usually be bought cheaper than it can be raised.

The average price of protein feeds with 20 per cent digestible protein was about $25 to $35 per ton before the war, but the prices are much higher now, while hay (clover) with 5½ per cent digestible protein has been rated at $10 per ton, so the protein feed at $40 would furnish protein about the same as clover at $10.

DISCARD your old-fashioned overalls, men. Slip on a suit of Lee Union-Alls! You'll never wear anything else to work in. Such an improvement! Such convenience! Such service! It's the work garment men in all walks of life have been waiting for. The mechanic, the motorist, the farmer, the laborer, the man who does odd jobs about the home and works in his garden—to everyone of these, Lee Union-Alls are a revelation of comfort, convenience and serviceability. You'll forget there was ever such a word as "overall." Work clothing will mean Union-Alls to you first, last and all the time. Cost no more, either, than the old fashioned, inconvenient, binding two-piece abominations.

Lee Union-Alls are all in one piece, (like your union underwear) which means there's no belt to bind, no double-thickness at the waist, no jacket tails to get in the way. The suit slips on easily and quickly and can be worn conveniently and comfortably over clothing or next to your underwear. It is already the fastest selling work garment ever manufactured. You'll know why when the minute you put on a suit.

Business-Like Clothes Buying

THERE are a lot of men in Oneonta who would laugh at any man who said he preferred oil lamps to electric lights—

BUT many of these men who consider themselves up-to-date are behind the times when they buy clothes. They haven't yet discovered that ready-made clothes, such as we show from the Kirschbaums and Hart Schaffner & Marx, are a distinct advance over the product of the custom-tailor. They still have their clothes "made-to-order"—they're still in the oil lamp stage of development—they have a vague idea that they get better fabrics, better fit, better style, better tailoring by the made-to-order process. And they're mistaken, and they don't know it—we could enlighten them very easily, we could show them the best all-wool fabrics in the world, such as few tailors have, we could show them style creations which their tailor can imitate but not originate, we could show them better workmanship than they're used to—And If the Clothes Don't Fit, They Don't Buy Them—We'd be glad of an opportunity to make a demonstration in this matter to any man.

This is the last day of the Red Cross War Fund campaign. Have you sent in your contribution? It is a worthy cause to which everybody should give as he is able.

Elsewhere in these columns it is noted that today is the last day of registration under the state military law. If anyone between the prescribed ages has failed to register, it is his last chance. It is not enough to say that nobody has called at the house. That is merely an act of courtesy on the part of the enumerators. The obligation to enroll rests on the citizen himself.

Some deep-dwelling philologist announces that the name of General Pershing, whose ancestors by the way came long ago from battle-scarred Lorraine, where the General now is to lead in fighting, is a corrupted form of a German word "pürsche," meaning "peaches." There is no doubt of the correctness of the appellation. American, French or mere Lorraine, Pershing is certainly a peach!

A recent issue of the government's Official Bulletin, of which every properly conducted newspaper office is believed to have a copy or more, says that the primary aim of the food commission is to reduce the consumption of staples, meaning thereby bread, butter, meat and potatoes, so that there will be a large amount set free for export to our allies. This may be the case, but in general it does not appear that the purpose is so much to reduce the consumption of the staples as to reduce the consumption of the staples, save as it may be reduced by the use of certain other non-exportable products, as it is to bring about larger production, and the elimination of waste. Certainly the American idea is not to starve anybody, or to give less than a full stomach. To produce more, and to save more by wasting less, is doubtless the primary aim.

One thing which Americans will have to consider besides the saving of food and the larger production of it, is doubtless the saving of coal. It is a thing which is being much considered, and already ominous rumors are afloat as to the altitude to which coal prices may soar during the coming winter. To make prices lower, or at least no higher, there must be economy of coal consumed, and there should be more careful saving of cinders. Anyone who with the least care inspects a public dump for coal ashes will be amazed at the amount of good coal which is thrown away. As a first step toward keeping coal prices down, everybody should buy a ash sieve; and after all are supplied, everybody should be compelled to use it. It is not a car-less estimate to say that the average family in fair circumstances wastes a ton or more of coal every winter, and this outside of the wastage which comes from running fires too high.

There seems to have been a great deal of "finess" about the contents of New York city officials regarding the confession of the Italian Cocchi, who was arrested in Italy and confessed the murder of Ruth Croger in New York last winter. One official speaks of the official as "eliminating any doubt," and another says he had a hunch that "if Cocchi committed the crime he would confess." The form of the statements implies in the case of each a lingering doubt up to this time, though after Cocchi fled to Italy and the body of the girl was found buried under the shop which he occupied there was very little dealing in "ifs" by anybody else. It will be remembered that the police appear to have ridiculed the idea of murder up to the time the body was discovered, and that, while the police heads will investigate certain substantiated, the whole department is now under arraignment at the bar of public opinion.

COMMENTS OF THE PRESS

Our Battle of the Marine Won.

The enormous oversubscription of the Liberty Loan, amounting to $1,275,225, or about 52 per cent of the sum offered, was hardly suspected when the books closed. It was not positively hoped for ten days before that date. It was the fruit of the campaign of education which was diligently prosecuted not merely by the authorities, but by the people themselves. There is not the slightest doubt that had the subscription books been open ten days longer the loan would have been oversubscribed two to one.

We cannot hope that the overwhelming success of the loan or the registration will attain to any immediate wide publicity in Germany. The censorship does not exist for that purpose. But knowledge of both will gradually permeate the German public consciousness.—[New York Sun.]

Another Great Problem Solved.

No longer will it be necessary for the cigar smoker to fumble about his pockets for a match or to ask his neighbor for a match. For Harry R. Vandeventer of Sumter, S. C., has secured a patent on a method of packing a match with each cigar. Mr.

Vandeventer proposes to have each cigar come with a match embedded in the butt end, the match being provided with a waterproof covering which at one end is twisted into a tail that extends through the butt end so as to be readily pulled out.—[Scientific American.]

What Lumber Means to Oregon.

One-fourth of Oregon's almost 60,000,000 acres is covered with merchantable timber, half of it in government forests. Oregon's share of the nation's timber resources is one-sixth, and is estimated to represent timber for $6,000,000,000 worth of manufactured lumber. The lumber industries employ nearly half of the wage earners in the state; the annual wage budget is $15,000,000, and the yearly outlay for equipment and supplies is $9,000,000 more. Steps are being taken to protect this great state and national asset against destruction by fire, which in the last few years has caused a loss estimated at $240,000,000.—[Leslie's Weekly.]

Kansas Council with a Sense of Humor

After working on it for 30 years D. S. Duglader thinks he has discovered perpetual motion. Last night the common council gave him the use of the old Logan schoolhouse for his experiments. The Logan school has for several years past been used as a pest-house.—[Salina Journal.]

A Measure of Progress.

We do not seem to get anywhere, but we are making rapid progress compared to the Kansas City attorney who is trying to have the conscription act declared unconstitutional.—[Topeka Capital.]

More German Officers' "Honor."

Mark Twain is dead, and now Frederick C. Howe, immigration commissioner, is making a bid for the post of humorist laureate of the United States. Another German officer who has given his "word of honor" that he would make no attempt to escape from internment at Ellis Island has become a fugitive, and Mr. Howe, with an innocent blindness that must arouse the risibilities of Miss Liberty, on the neighboring island, announces that he "does not believe the German officer had guile in his heart and feels confident the man will return of his own free will."

A German officer with no guile in his heart and who would respect his word of honor, if discovered and placed on a pedestal at Ellis Island, would form a curiosity that would dim the world-wide fame of the bronze statue that ornaments Bedloe's Island.—[New York Herald.]

RED CROSS RALLY AT MILFORD.

Large audience Present at Meeting Held Last Friday Evening.

Milford, June 24.—There was a large attendance at the Red Cross rally held in the Methodist Episcopal church in Milford on Friday evening. The auditorium, which was handsomely decorated with the American flag, was crowded with an audience which included large delegations from Portlandville, Cooperstown, Milford Center and other nearby towns. Rev. N. B. Ripley, pastor of the church, presided and felicitously introduced the speakers of the evening.

The meeting opened with an organ voluntary by Miss Josephine Whitney, closing with the "Star Spangled Banner" during which the Milford members of Company G of Oneonta, as color guard, marched up the aisle, the whole audience rising and singing. Prayer was offered by Rev. N. B. Ripley, and a solo, "Come, Sweet Morning," was sung by Miss Josephine Lauren.

The principal address of the evening was given by Dr. James C. Russell of the First Presbyterian church of Oneonta. His address was a thrilling talk of about a half-hour's duration, the first part of which was devoted to the general patriotic issue, and the second earnestly enforced the needs of the Red Cross. The close attention and applause which he received was flattering evidence of the quality of his remarks and of the enthusiasm awakened in his hearers.

A solo, "The Sunshine of Her Smile," by Mr. Bates of this place, was followed by remarks by William W. Capron of Oneonta, who clearly and convincingly presented a statement of work done by the Red Cross, and outlined that which was contemplated. Mr. Capron, as head of the Oneonta society, is familiar with all phases of the work, and gave an excellent resume of it to his hearers.

After the singing of "The Two Greenleaves" by Miss Josephine Lauren and Eva Trauger of Oneonta, the French national song, "The Marseillaise," was given as an encore the audience rising and remaining standing. A liberal silver collection was taken and the benediction was pronounced by Dr. Russell.

The ushers were young ladies of this village, wearing Red Cross costumes, as did also the young ladies present from Oneonta. Among those present from that city were in addition to those previously named, Misses Beulah Bell, Mary Lomen and Margaret Guiney, who assisted in the singing; Miss J. S. Lauren, Mrs. Viola D. Newton and B. C. Lauren.

Paul M. Fisher Jr. Wins Prize.

The Hudson Falls Boy Scouts under scoutmaster Dunn have been serving their country by securing pledges for Liberty Loan bonds and as a result of their efforts it is announced that the prize to the local Boy Scout for the largest amount of Liberty Loan bonds sold goes to Paul M. Fisher Jr., who will be awarded a gold medal by the United States treasury department, he having disposed of bonds to the amount of $1,100.—[Hudson Falls Herald.]

Mr. Fisher is a son of a former well-known Oneonta newspaperman and well-known to Star readers. The young man is now visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Mary S. Fisher, at 10 Grove street.

Women Take Places of Men As Army Grooms

Another field in which British women are entering and making good is that of taking the place of male hostlers and grooms in the army remount stations. The photograph shows two of these women stable hands grooming a charger for service on the western battle front. Thousands of soldiers have been released from the work by the employment of women. And the latter are proving just as efficient.

OVER THIRTY-THREE HUNDRED THEATRE RED CROSS BENEFIT.

Raised in Oneonta Last Week for Red Cross War Fund.

Saturday last saw many more generous contributions made to the Red Cross war fund, for which it is hoped to record a total of one hundred million dollars in the United States before the drive ends today. Not only, however, have there been many large subscriptions. There have been numerous smaller ones—which in many cases were very large when the extent of sacrifice on the part of the donors was considered. Irving H. Rowe, who is the head of the executive committee for Oneonta, states that the total up to yesterday was over $3,300, and that it is hoped that a very large increase will be made before the campaign closes tonight. Collections were taken yesterday in all the churches, but as the full sum could not be ascertained last evening in all cases, publication of the figures is deferred to Tuesday's Star.

The committee desires to state that it will continue a vigorous campaign today; and also that the blanks left Saturday in the Wilber National and Citizens' National banks will remain there today, so that all who desire to subscribe but have not seen any member of the committee, can have opportunity to do so.

A Message from Headquarters.

The following telegram received yesterday by Mr. Rowe from Seward Prosser, chairman of the executive committee in Washington, will be of interest to every person interested in the Red Cross work:

Washington, D. C., June 23, 1917, Irving H. Rowe, Oneonta, N. Y.

The war council greets the cities performing their duty in this campaign. Monday will be celebrated nationally as Pershing day. Twenty millions is still needed to make completion of the fund as a pledge of our loyalty to Pershing and to our men in France. The war council knows the quality of your citizenship and is depending on you for a strong effect in order that the goal may be attained, for the glory of Americans at home and in the trenches.

Seward Prosser.

TO GIVE MILITARY INSTRUCTION.

Redpath Chautauqua Will Provide Drills for Boys.

In keeping with the military preparedness spirit of the day the management of the Redpath Chautauqua system has arranged to have in each town a competent military instructor who will participate in the instruction of the children's playground work. He will give valuable instruction to the children, particularly the boys, along lines of military callisthenics and the elementary forms of drilling. This will be a splendid thing for the children and they should look forward to it as a thrilling part of the Chautauqua week, July 18-24.

These military instructors are all selected from the student list of the New York Military academy at Connaught-on-Hudson. This school ranks as one of the first among the ten "Honorary Military schools" so-called by the United States government. Illustrating the high standard of its graduates last June 1916, in filling ten vacancies at West Point the government allowed each of the ten "honorary schools" to select two candidates for a competitive examination, the ten highest to be chosen for the vacancies. The New York Military academy produced two of the three candidates who passed the examination, the other schools not even qualifying. Some of the graduates of the school are now on their way to France as officers of the regular army; there are also dozens of them in the training camps both military and naval.

Motor Car Overturns.

Tony Angelillo is suffering from a badly bruised foot, sustained when his delivery truck overturned upon it at Colliers. The car fared better than the foot, for when it was turned back upon its four wheels it ran on as merrily as if it had not temporarily lost its equilibrium.

LOCAL MENTION.

—The collected D & H time card, which became effective yesterday, appears in this issue. The afternoon train northbound leaving here at 4:15 p. m. runs as formerly.

—Sarah, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Packer of Pine street, fell a day or two since at the family home and sustained a fractured arm. Dr. Marx reduced the fracture.

—Rev. B. M. Johns of the First Methodist Episcopal church was in Milford last evening and delivered the baccalaureate address before the graduating class of the Milford High school.

—Some little delay was caused the local trolley service yesterday afternoon late by the trolley wire breaking in front of the Congdon Bros' store Main street. It was some time before the trouble was corrected.

—The County club benefit dance for the Red Cross Friday evening netted about $12.00 for the work. There was a good attendance. The club house was attractively draped in the national colors and many of the ladies present wore the Red Cross costumes.

—A. Smith formerly in the employ of the D & H here who recently enlisted as wireless operator in the navy service was a week end visitor in the city, leaving last evening enroute to Brooklyn. He has been assigned to the battleship fleet but it is not certain of the ship.

—The worshippers at the First Baptist church yesterday morning were favored with an excellent discourse delivered by Rev. Dr. Coats, a former pastor who was in the city to deliver the baccalaureate address before the graduating class of the High school last evening.

—The banquet of the High School Alumni association will be held this evening at the Oneonta commencing at 7:30. An informal summer dress dance will be held in the ball room following the banquet. Members of the association and friends can secure tickets of Harry Baird or Clyde Benedict.

—The trolley company removed their elevated track at the corner of Chestnut and Main streets Saturday night after the rain subsided. The removal is appreciated much by the public and it is hoped that the relaying of the track and the completion of this improvement will be speedily completed.

—There were four candidates for positions in the state service in attendance on the Civil Service examination before George L. Gibbs esq. on Saturday. All were for assistant in bureau of compulsory education, State Education department. The next examination will be held in this city by Mr. Gibbs on July 25.

—The changes in the time of the trains on the Cooperstown branch of the D & H will necessitate that both crews reside at the county seat. It is understood that Conductor Bell will relinquish that run for another on the main line. There will also result a readjustment of the runs on the main line incident to the discontinuance of certain trains.

—Charles Reynolds son of Mr. and Mrs. Jay W. Reynolds of 6 Luther street who works for the valuation department of the Delaware & Hudson was quite seriously bruised about the head and shoulders while taking measurements in the machine shop Sunday morning. A pair of wheels struck the 15 foot ladder on which he was standing and threw him to the ground. He was taken to his home and the attending physician, Dr. O. C. Tarbox, will make an examination this morning to ascertain if there are internal injuries.

—The vacant store next to the Reynolds book store has been donated, until rented as Red Cross headquarters and will be opened some day this week. When open registrations can be left there and there will be people present to oversee an who wish to volunteer their service in making surgical dressings. There will be the regular meeting of the Surgical Dressings class this afternoon but the Woman's club will not be open for work this evening as it will not be long before these other headquarters will be open continually for such work.

—Frank Bordinger at the free auto parking place on Dietz street has installed and herewith will call for and deliver cars being washed at his place, also quick taxi service and light repair work. Phone 179-J. advt 2t

THE BEAUTY OF THE LORD

THEME OF ELOQUENT BACCALAUREATE SERMON BEFORE HIGH SCHOOL CLASS.

Rev. Dr. A. B. Coats of Hartford, Conn., former pastor of First Baptist Church here, addressed Students and Emphasized Responsibilities Upon the Men and Women of Tomorrow.

Rev. A. B. Coats, from 1886 to 1891 pastor of the First Baptist church of this city, later pastor at Beverly, Mass., now general superintendent of the Baptist state convention of Connecticut and residing at Hartford Conn. who is doing an excellent work especially in establishing missions among the foreign born which class comprises four-ninths of the state's population, delivered the baccalaureate sermon before the graduating class of the Oneonta High school at the auditorium last evening, the eloquent divine pleading that all put themselves in attitude with the infinite, that the beauty of the Lord our God be upon us. The effort was one worthy the speaker and the occasion, most impressively portraying the beauty and charm that can be given to the simplest acts of life, if inspired and actuated by a love akin to that of the God of the universe for the humblest of men.

Taking for his text the seventeenth verse of the nineteenth Psalm. "And let the beauty of the Lord our God be upon us and establish thou the work of our hands upon us, O God, the work of our hands establish thou it." The speaker said that the Psalm consists of a meditation and a prayer, the writer evidently musing over some task done. Two things especially impress the author. One is the fact that while the task has been accomplished it has not been done as well as one could wish. We all find that no matter how hard we have worked, nor with what pains, no perfect work comes from our hands. The painter, the poet, and the preacher—all find that the toil to give expression to the fullest emotions of the heart. The second thing that impresses the writer is that of all our work how little will stand the test of time, how little will prove enduring.

Thinking of these things the poet is led to further contemplation of the work of God's hands in contrast with the work of his own. What his work lacks God supplies in the fullest measure. What God does is perfectly done and lasts forever. So to him comes and to us should come a great desire to be brought into such relationship with God, that God can add to the world the essential elements which it lacks. This is the need of all men of all ages and secured it gives to all things in life and all the accomplishments the beauty of God. Bold it may seem to ask God that He give such gift and yet the glory of human history is that all along through the ages in response to the appeals of earnest souls God has been giving the touch of beauty and permanence to all that we have done that has been beautiful and enduring.

Turning from the development of this thought the speaker addressed himself more particularly to the members of the class—52 in number—to whom he spoke substantially as follows:

Young ladies and gentlemen of the graduating class of 1917, this generation of which you are a part is facing a most unusual task. The future is full of menace, the most terrible war the world has ever known is raging with uncontrolled violence. The interests at stake are so great that all the nations of the earth have consented to enter into the war, on one side or the other for their permanent settlement. It will not be for you to determine the issues of the conflict, but the great responsibility of reconstructing the world will be

LAST DAY FOR ENROLLMENT

Every Person Within the Age Limits Must Enroll Today—Present Number Over Six Thousand in Oneonta.

At the hour of 6 last evening there had been 2,752 males and 4,279 females between the ages of 18 and 21 registered in Oneonta during the last two weeks under the provisions of the military census law. This total of 7,031 is much larger than the original estimate, but it by no means represents the total in the city. Over 100 new names were taken on yesterday, and there is still a considerable number of blanks to be returned for collection. To these add those who have neglected to register or have delayed for the last moment and it is evident that the completed figures will go well toward 9,000 names.

City Superintendent Marshall wishes to call general attention that today is the last day for registration and that there are no days of grace. If any have neglected or refused to register when the offices close tonight, the responsibility will rest entirely on themselves. Moreover there is nothing in the law sometimes given that the enumerators have not called. The visits by the enumerators are mere matters of courtesy and the fact that any one has been overlooked does not excuse that person from registration or enable him to evade the penalty.

However, if there are any sections not visited or any persons who have not been seen, it is requested that information to that effect be given at the earliest possible hour today at the census headquarters in the Municipal building. The safest way to do however, is not to send word but to go directly to the census office.

As there are some blanks still in the hands of the enumerators, it is requested that all of them be brought in this morning to their district captains.

The probable number of enrollers throughout the state was based on 56 per cent of the population according to the last census. On this basis, there would have been about 7,500 enrollers in the city. The much larger number already enrolled indicates a substantial increase in population.

High School Exercises Today

The class day exercises of the Oneonta High school class of 1917, will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the High school auditorium. In the evening the annual alumni banquet will be held in the dining room of the Oneonta hotel beginning at 7:30 o'clock. The complete program for the two events appeared in The Star of Saturday.

The graduating exercises will be held Tuesday evening in the High school auditorium. The class of 1917 has fifty-two members which is only one less than the high water mark of a year ago. This announcement could not be made until the very satisfactory results of the Regents examinations of last week were ascertained.

VIOLA DANA AND HOUSE PETERS

Two Famous Screen Stars at Oneonta Theatre Today.

How the Wife by Purchase finds contentment according to the law of God and of man forms a soul-stirring climax to the Metro production. God's Law and Mans the photodrama which will be seen at the Oneonta theatre today matinee and evening, with the beautiful Viola Dana, and an all star cast of Metro players. A popular Hearst-Pathe News reel will also be seen. Tomorrow, House Peters will be seen in the photoplay of unusual excellence, "Heir of the Ages." Admission 10 cents.

THE STRAND TODAY.

William Fox Offers Rider Haggard's Famous Novel, "She."

Who has not read or at least heard of Rider Haggard's most popular novel, "She," the story of the Egyptian queen who lived to be 3,000 years old and retained her beauty. The part of she, who must be obeyed, is taken by Valerka Suratt and is her best work. Benjamin Taggart in the role of Leo is exceptionally fine and the assembly work is well handled. We also have Lute in "Skinny's False Alarm," a good comedy.

ALMA HANLON

At the Happy Hour Theatre Today in "Pride and the Devil"

A gripping heart interest story of the divorce problem. Its an Art drama. Its got to be good, staged in five acts, also famous Universal screen magazine was interesting. See the world's work today in motion pictures. "Uncle Money" Joker comedy, a screaming mix-up with the inimitable Gale Henry. Some catchy comedy, some funny farce.

$322,200 Additional for Oneontans.

The above large amount, in par value was taken in new shares of the Oneonta Building and Loan association during the past six months, and on account of the rush and large amount of business which always comes with the issue of its new series in July of each year, Judge Bolton, its secretary, will now accept advance subscriptions for new shares. In view of the fact that this institution is of vast benefit to Oneonta, its people and vicinity, and that the large amount of work performed by its board of directors is in the interest of the many, instead of for their personal gain, it is requested that those who would take advantage of its excellent opportunities will relieve a hard worked office force by calling at No. 54 Chestnut street, as early as possible. advt 1t

DEATHS.

Mrs. William J. LeSuer.

Elizabeth M., wife of Dr. William J. LeSuer, died at 5:30 o'clock Sunday morning of heart disease at her home, 59 Ford avenue, in this city. She had been in failing health for the past six months, but her condition did not become critical until three weeks ago, since which time she had been confined to her bed.

The funeral, which will be private, will be held at 1 p. m. on Tuesday. Her pastor, Rev. Dr. Charles S. Pendleton, will officiate, and burial will be in the family plot at Afton. Neighbors and friends who desire to pay a last tribute of respect may do so between the hours of 11 a. m. and 12 m. on Tuesday.

Mrs. LeSuer was born April 1, 1862, and was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Levi LeSuer of Afton. Her home was in that village until her marriage on January 1, 1892, since which time she had resided in this city. For many years she had been a member of the Free Baptist church, and so long as her health permitted, had taken much interest in its varied activities. She was also a member of the Lady Macchabees of this city. Deeply devoted to her home and its interests, she none the less found time to make many warm personal friends to whom her demise will be a personal loss and who will deeply sympathize with the husband and sons in their great sorrow.

Mrs. LeSuer was the third of the seven children of Mr. and Mrs. Levi LeSuer and her death marks the first break in a hitherto unbroken family circle. Besides her mother and husband, she is survived by two sons, Julian M. for the past year connected with the chemical laboratory of the Bethlehem Steel works at Bethlehem, Pa., and who reached home a few days before her demise; and Bruce, who is a member of the present graduating class of the Oneonta High school. She also leaves four brothers, Charles, Arthur and Lynn LeSuer of Afton and Howard of Sidney, and two sisters, Miss Ida LeSuer and Mrs. W. C. Handy of Afton.

Truman H. Stanton.

Truman H. Stanton, aged 88 years, a lifelong resident of the township of Oneonta, died early yesterday morning, at 20 Lewis street, where he had been living for some time, death being due to old age.

The deceased is survived by three sons, L. R. Stanton, Westford; L. F. Stanton and William B. Stanton, residing in this city, and two sisters, Mrs. O. J. White and Miss May Stanton, also two sisters, Mrs. Silas Yager, New Berlin, and Mrs. Cook residing at Tompkins, Pa. Mr. Stanton was better known among the older residents of Oneonta, and his long residence here had gained him a wide circle of acquaintances and the news of his death will be a source of sorrow to all who knew him.

The funeral will be held at the home of his son, William B. Stanton, 120 East street, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. C. S. Pendleton of the Free Baptist church will officiate and interment made at Glenwood cemetery.

Death at Franklin.

Franklin, June 23. — Mrs. Cutler, widow of the late James C. Cutler, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. James Reed, near this village, Thursday evening, June 21, aged 89 years. Beside the daughter named she is survived by one son, Richard Cutler, of Mendota.

MARRIAGES.

Codington-Perry.

At 8 o'clock Saturday evening Miss Sylvia Maria Perry of Otego was united in marriage to Charles Earl Codington of Unadilla, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Seth J. Perry, at Otego.

The home was beautifully decorated with red, white and blue trimmings, with an American flag for a background and a flag beautifully draped over the arch under which the couple were married. The dining room was decorated with green and white.

The bride was prettily dressed in a pale blue silk with gold lace trimming and the bridesmaids were dressed in white crepe dresses.

A three-course dinner was served at 9 o'clock, which showed much skill on the part of Mrs. E. Crandall of Oneonta, who prepared the dinner, which was served by two of the bride's girl friends.

After the dinner was served the company indulged in throwing rice, after which the bride and groom left for their home which is furnished and awaiting them at Unadilla where they will reside.

Carr-Bowman.

Claude Carr of Laurens, an employee of the Endicott Johnson company of Binghamton, and Miss Anna Bowman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Bowman of 188 Chapin street, Binghamton, were quietly married in this city Friday.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. J. Farley at the parsonage of the First Baptist church. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Thayer of 24 Broad street, at whose home Mr. and Mrs. Carr remained until last evening.

Mr. Carr was for several years a resident of Oneonta and is well known to many here, who will unite in extending congratulations and best wishes to the happy couple.

are putting up that square right-angled resistance of theirs to the treacherous skid.

If you haven't been able to slip the chains on—as the careful driver should, with any tire, in very bad going—you can feel safer, at least, with Batavias than with any other non-skid tires; because they are the original indented tread and use the right-angle pattern skid resistance of the chain itself.

As three-quarters of the time motoring is a fair weather sport, this security tread with its indentation gives maximum speed because of a minimum surface touching the road.

RED CROSS BORN ON BATTLEFIELD

Soffarino's Horrors Inspired Henri Dunant to Urge Reform.

TREATY OF GENEVA MADE

American Red Cross First Impressed the World With Its Work at the Johnstown Flood—President of the United States Also President of the Red Cross.

THE battle of Soffarino occurred in 1859. It went on for several days. In that time 30,000 wounded men lay on the field—Frenchmen, Italians and Russians.

Thousands of these remained for days in extreme agony, uncared for. Thousands of them died for want of care. It was one of the supreme horrors of all history.

It happened that a Swiss, Henri Dunant, went upon this battlefield and saw these dying, neglected men. He told about it so vividly that the nations of the world decided that it was time to take this atrocity out of war. The treaty of Geneva in 1863 for the first time provided for the immunity of medical and nursing services in battle, and the sign of that immunity was to be a red cross. And from that authorization has sprung the great international order of mercy—the Red Cross.

The United States did not adopt the Geneva treaty until 1882. From then until the year 1900 the Red Cross was a struggling organization, largely a private charity, without official recognition.

According to dispatches from Washington, the United States within four months will be producing battleplanes at the rate of 2,000 a month, with the plan to establish a gigantic aerial service with which to overwhelm the air forces of the Kaiser.

When this vast plan is put into operation it is expected the United States will have from 10,000 to 20,000 aeroplanes. The heads of these tremendous force will be Brigadier General Squier, who has charge of aviation for the army, and Howard E. Coffin, chairman of the Aircraft Production board of the Council of National Defense.

CORNMEAL NUTRITIOUS, SAYS OHIO FOOD EXPERT

Points Out That Lee's Army Lived Weeks Before Appomattox on This Product.

INTERIOR OF RED CROSS HOSPITAL TENT.

Two things the American table provider must learn—variety and substitution. This is the statement of B. H. Kroger of Cincinnati, the man who buys more foodstuffs in Ohio than all the hotels in the state combined. The average menu, he says, is too monotonous and too costly.

"Because of the monotony it creates waste, and just now that is criminal," he says. "The trouble is that Americans don't care enough about their meals. They don't plan them, although nutrition is one of the essentials of existence. Some erroneously think it a form of gluttony to consider in advance what they are going to eat."

"Eat cornmeal in quantities," he says. "But get interested enough to secure the right kind of meal, because there's a wide difference. The coarsest is the best for most purposes. But that's only one dish. The same rule applies to all others. The man who is indifferent to food is hit the hardest by his cost. Get acquainted with the business of keeping yourself alive through the function of feeding. It pays."

Yours. When the war ends, as please God it may soon, and end rightly, as we still more devoutly pray, an entirely new order of things will prevail, old traditions, old habits and customs, old laws, have been utterly broken up and from their broken fragments must be built again a new world, better fitted to live in, a world made safe for democracy. You will need all the wisdom you have, and all the training you can secure, to fit you for this work of your hands, and when you have done your utmost, when you have consecrated every talent you possess and have given every ounce of your native energy, you will find that even this is not enough. Upon the work of your hands you must contrive somehow to get the radiant beauty of God. Into the structure which you build with ever so much care, God must put the enduring element of his own wisdom and his own blessing, or all will come to naught. The animosities engendered by the strife have filled the world with bitterness. The dreadful acts of violence, and shame into which the lust to conquer has led some of the nations of the earth, has filled the minds of most men with a desire for vengeance upon the perpetrators of these shameful deeds. We may need this spirit just now to arm us for the strong conflict and impel us to fight on, until the possibility of such things occurring again has forever passed away. But when the war is ended and when peace with victory has been secured, the sooner our minds are freed from these things, the more quickly will we be able to reconstruct society, not on the old foundations of national greed and ambition and lust for power, but on the better basis of universal love and brotherhood. To do this you will need, we all will need, the beauty of the Lord our God on us, to soften our hearts and free us from all bitterness and wrath and clamor and evil speaking and all guile. Thus, with consecrated hands, we may build a new order of society, which will be a little step onward toward that time, when the kingdom of God shall come and his will be done on earth as it is in Heaven.

Seated upon the rostrum at the service with the speaker were Rev. Dr. J. C. Russell, who presided, Rev. Dr. E. J. Farley, who made the invocation; Rev. J. C. Trauger, who read the scripture lesson; Rev. Dr. Charles S. Pendleton, who made the prayer, and Rev. Dr. Smiley who pronounced the benediction. The school orchestra played a processional and a recessional while a double quartet of students sang effectively an anthem, "Praise Ye the Father." Miss Aurelia Trauger rendered as a solo, "Zion," and the congregation, which was large and attentive, united with the students in two hymns: "Oh! Worship the King" and "Glorious Things of Thee Are Spoken."

WILL BE IN FRANCE SOON

First Regiment Scheduled for Early Departure — Organization of Depot Battalions to Follow.

The first regiment of infantry, N. Y. N. G. in which organization are the Oneonta and Walton companies, will be mustered into the federal service on July 15, for the period of the war with Germany, and soon thereafter will sail across the seas for training for French battlefields with the New York division of the National Guard, under command of Major General John F. O'Han.

With the mustering into the federal service of the organized militia of New York state on July 15, the necessity arises of immediately raising and equipping a National Guard in New York state to replace the men who go to the front. The state constitution provides that a minimum of 10,000 National Guardsmen shall be available within the state at all times. To meet this requirement after the present National Guard organizations have entered the federal service next month, depot battalions will be formed immediately. These will be for service only within the confines of New York state and not for active war duty. The men in these depot battalions will be enlisted for the period of the war, unless sooner discharged, and will be armed, equipped and drilled as regular militiamen, which is their status. In short, they will replace the militiamen who go to the front, but they cannot be summoned for duty beyond New York state.

Prize Winners Leave For Detroit.

Mrs. Edith VanDeusen of Cherry street and Mrs. Hassan Eckerson of Ne-ah-wa place departed yesterday for Detroit, Mich., to attend the national convention of the Order of Protected Home Circle, which is being held there during the present week. These ladies were the successful contestants in the prize contest recently held by the grand lodge which offered a free trip with a due allowance for expenses to those writing the largest amount of insurance in a given district. It was a source of much gratification to the local lodge to learn that two of its members were among the successful contestants and a number of the members were at the station yesterday to congratulate the winners. Mrs. Eckerson will return to Oneonta one week from today, Mrs. VanDeusen will stop off in Buffalo to visit friends for a few days.

Funeral of Thomas Carpenter.

The funeral of the late Thomas Carpenter, notice of whose tragic death in Umadilla on Friday appeared in The Star of Saturday, will be held at 1 p. m. today at his late home about one mile above that village in the town of Sidney. The funeral will be conducted by his pastor, Rev. Webster Moore of the Canadilla Baptist church, and the Old Fellows of Umadilla will have charge of the committal service in Evergreen Hill cemetery. The bearers will be members of the Order of Macabees, of which he also was a member.

Buying Western Steers.

Three carloads, 100 head, of western steers passed through Oneonta on Saturday, enroute to Cooperstown, where it is understood that they are to be fattened on the farms of the Clark estates, and prepared for beef. The plan is being followed by various parties in the east. Osego has much grazing land that is going to waste this summer that should be utilized in a like manner.

To Attend State G. A. R. Encampment.

Larmer post, G. A. R., of Oneonta will be represented on Tuesday and Wednesday at the state encampment in Stratona Springs by Commander W. H. Brown and by comrades C. J. Westcott, Minor Munson and S. G. Lundy, the latter of Osego. Other members of the local post may also attend.

Prizes Sustained by Mrs. J. R. Skinner.

The prizes in the grades of the River street school which were awarded on Friday last, are sustained by Mrs. John R. Skinner in memory of her late husband, who was for many years a member of the Oneonta board of education and for the first years of his life its president.

OUR heritage of trust and zeal
 Has now become the world's great hope
 For freedom from Oppression's heel.
 For Aspiration's wider scope.

TO this world-call, have we reply
 Other than that our fathers gave?
 To guard this trust, what if we die
 If dying is the way to save!

HUMANITY hath instant need
 Of loyalty that seeks to serve;
 And even though death were its meed,
 From its ideal it would not swerve.

LIFE would have nothing worth to give,
 Had men not for their duty died;
 True patriots would scorn to live
 If they the sacrifice denied.

O YE who seek the soul's free air,
 Who seek the larger hope, arise!
 For truth and justice Do and Dare!
 Who cares to live when Freedom dies?

GET YOUR DOG TAGS NOW

New Licenses Under State Law Will Be in Force July 1—Licenses Secured Now Good Until April 30, Next.

City Clerk Close has been notified by the state department of agriculture of the enactment of the new law, which takes the matter of licensing dogs out of the hands of the local authorities and makes it a state function under the control of the department named. This action is taken as a part of the plan for the protection of sheep from dogs, the aim being to foster the sheep industry of the state.

Under the new law the state will furnish the tags and licenses and are to cost $2.25 and $3.25 each, with a charge of $20 for dog kennels and other licenses. The new law, according to the understanding of the city clerk, does not become effective until July 1, after which date all licenses must be issued under the state law and at increased rates.

Until July 1, City Clerk Close will be able to issue licenses to all dogs in the city at the old license fee and these licenses will be good until April 30, 1918. It will, therefore, be economy for all owners of dogs in the city to secure city licenses before July 1, as they cost considerably less than the state licenses.

Whether the enforcement of the law will be left in the hands of the local officials to enforce is not known, although it is not unlikely that Officer Conto will be continued. The state department will, however, send officers to this section frequently to see that the law is being enforced and that all owners of dogs have paid license fees.

DELL'S CHICKEN DINNER.

And Why Mrs. Kohn Failed to Find "Some Chickens."

When Dell Kohn arose rather late Sunday morning he told his wife not to bother much for breakfast as he had planned a corking good dinner. "Just go to the refrigerator," said he, "and glance at the good things we will have." Imagine her surprise when she found the contents consisted of a cucumber and a few leaves of wilted lettuce. Recovering herself she was heard to exclaim "poor man, he is working too hard." Returning to the kitchen she met her husband, with his usual happy smile who greeted her thus, "Some chickens, eh, wife, I guess I know when chickens are chickens and those are the nearest specimens I had been able to find, and those home-grown vegetables will go to make a dinner fit for a king." "Why, Dell, you must be dreaming, there are no chickens and no vegetables," replied Mrs. Kohn.

Mr. Kohn's expression changed when he reached the refrigerator. Here he nearly had a stroke. "What the—well just what he said would not look well in print. About this time L. J. Condon appeared on his own back porch and finding his cooler also had been entered was going through the same stunts as Mr. Kohn. On meeting each other they compared notes. An investigation disclosed fresh footprints leading from both houses to the street and it was quite evident that some sneak thief had made way with 'some chickens and those home-grown vegetables'.

"I really thought that manure and was interested in me."

VAMPIRE OF THE OCEAN.

"Ironing" the Devilfish is a Mode of Flirting With Death.

"Ironing" the devilfish, the largest of all the rays and one of the largest creatures of the sea, means flirting with death. The devilfish is also known as the ocean vampire. Its scientific name is Manta vampyrus, and all these names tell something of its habits. It gets its name devilfish from the fact that projecting from either side of the head is a hornlike appendage which in reality is a detached part of the pectoral fin or wing. The horns, sometimes three feet long and freely movable, are used to bring food to its mouth.

These fins have been known to circle above the bow of a boat, lifting the vessel out of the water and deluging the occupants of the boat with gallons of water. When they flop back to the surface they make a noise that can be heard far off. Exciting? Dangerous? The sport is both. The only thing that saves devilfish hunters at a time like this is preparedness. Every man must be at his station, all must obey the will of the harpooner, and if a bit of luck is thrown in the manta is killed.

The devilfish gets its name of manta, meaning blanket, from the pearl divers of the Caribbean sea, who are of the belief that it devours people after enveloping them in its enormous wings.

The fish has prodigious strength and has been known to tow a hundred ton vessel far out to sea. An authenticated story is told of a manta that towed eight boats, lashed together, for hours until finally the crews were compelled to cut the rope and let the devilfish escape.

Its vitality is wonderful. There are records of specimens escaping after having been harpooned, lanced and shot many times with rifles of heavy caliber. It fights even after the brain and heart have been pierced. Death comes only when the spinal cord, back of the brain, is severed.—New York Sun.

ONE IS SOUND IN 100.

Nation is 99 Per Cent Below Par, Says Professor Fisher of Yale.

"The Life Extension Institute has shown that 99 per cent of our population is below par," asserted Professor Irving Fisher of Yale in an address on "Public Health and Social Welfare" at Pittsburgh.

"Our health ideals are low," he said—"far lower than those of Germany, Japan, Switzerland or Sweden and still lower than those of ancient Greece."

"We are the only great industrial nation that does not have health insurance. We need a department of health to set standards. The whole nation should go into military training in a sense. It should begin with the public schools, and we should rid ourselves of every trace of alcoholism by bone dry legislation."

FREEDOM OF INTERCOURSE

My interest in good roads is not merely an interest in the pleasure of riding in automobiles. It is not merely an interest in the very much more important matter of affording the farmers of this country and the residents in villages the means of ready access to such neighboring markets as they need for the economic benefit, but it is also the interest in weaving a complicated and elaborate a net of neighborhood and state and national opinions together as it is possible to weave. It is of the most fundamental importance that the United States should think in big pieces, should think together, should think ultimately as a whole. I believe that the development of great systems of roads is, psychologically speaking as well as physically speaking, a task of statesmanship. I believe that it is the proper study of the statesman to bind communities together and open their intercourse so that it will flow with absolute freedom and facility.—President Wilson.

TRAVEL IN THE AIR.

The Safety That Goes With Transportation by Aeroplane.

It is a new idea that the aeroplane is a safe means of transportation in safe hands, yet it is an idea that we must firmly get into the popular mind. The average citizen is still frightened at the prospect of leaving the ground and having no support except the air itself. Yet at the speed which we expect an aeroplane to maintain—seventy or eighty miles an hour—there is no means of transportation that is so safe. The obstructions that cause accidents with trains and automobiles do not exist for flying craft. A locomotive has to follow a definite track, which may cause a frightful calamity. The aeroplane is not so circumscribed. Its tracks are wherever it wishes to go. There are no obstructions in the air—unless we regard "air pockets" as such—no bridges to cross, no mountains to penetrate, no signals to run by and no switches to be misplaced.

Or compare this new craft with the rough road of the automobile. The slightest mistake or even inattention on the part of the driver, going, say, forty or fifty miles an hour, may hurl the machine over a precipice or overturn it on an embankment. But such a lapse on the part of an aviator has no such deplorable results. There are no precipices to fall from and no obstructions to collide with.

The aeroplane is even safer than some forms of water travel. The motorboat, going at a speed of forty miles an hour or even slower, is a more risky form of transportation than an aeroplane. If such a boat strikes even a small obstruction, such as a floating plank, its side is punctured and it sinks in a few seconds. But there are no such dangers in the air.—Orville Wright in Harper's.

The Cause of Riots Before the White House

SUFFRAGETTES AT WHITE HOUSE.
 Miss Katherine Morey of Boston, Mass., and Miss Lucy Burns of New York city, holding the suffrage banner which caused a riot when they appeared with it before the White House. The banner was destroyed by the enraged crowds and the honors of it barely saved from injury by the police. As a result of the disorder caused by the suffragettes they have been forbidden to picket the White House as they have been doing since before the last election.
